XXI

Recently Headquarters received from ANKILLO/2 (Identity 1) a copy of the attached report which was written by [redacted]. The contents of the report indicate the locations or several missile sites and dispositions of two large military units inside Latvia. In the absence of knowledge as to the source or sources of this information as well as the dates we cannot properly determine the value or reliability of the statements. Since [redacted] has been in contact with [redacted] at various times in the past, Headquarters would appreciate [redacted] checking with [redacted] without revealing our source to see what information the latter has on missile sites, order of battle, etc. When and if, [redacted] mentions any of the locations named in the attached report, perhaps [redacted] can press for the source of his knowledge, where, when and how obtained. Were it not for the importance of collecting information on missiles, we would not ask you to undertake what may be a fruitless mission.
